

INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

The APRRN Secretariat in Bangkok considers internship applications on a rolling basis. Interns are asked to commit for a six-month period at minimum, and may work remotely during the Covid-19 pandemic. Internships are unpaid, however interns based in Bangkok may receive a modest stipend if funding is available.

Interns may undertake a number of activities at APRRN, and may couple these activities with their own interests so as to receive support from APRRN in personal development. Some examples of activities interns may be expected to assist include:

- Liaising with APRRN members across the region and APRRN's Secretariat Staff
- Assisting in the advancement of APRRN activities, including the Asia Pacific Consultation on Refugee Rights
- Researching and presenting current issues in refugee rights advocacy across the region
- Developing APRRN's network-wide M&E vision
- Assisting in the development of sustainable fundraising approaches at APRRN
- Other tasks as assigned by the management team

How to apply

- Please send your CV (3 pages maximum), a short covering letter and/or writing sample unedited by others, and contact details for three referees in Word or PDF format to jobs@aprrn.org with subject line "Application: APRRN Intern". All applications will be held on file and considered as opportunities arise.

Further Information

- Interns will be expected to adhere to core standards of APRRN staff, including principles of confidentiality, good conduct, and policy
- Interns will not be remunerated for the work
- A Certificate of Appreciation will be provided at the close of the internship, and recommendation letters will be provided where appropriate
- Due to Covid-19 pandemic, internship will be remote until further notice
